

Media conglomerates such as Sinclair Broadcasting endanger our democracy when they are able to force their views on our community members. We need to reexamine media ownership rules so that these media bullies do not have so much power.